

MUD RESISTIVITY IN AND OUT

The sensor is a non fouling induced EMF type (toroidal) with internal temperature compensation. The sensor has a variable full scale output, which permits the monitoring of a wide range of water based mud types. The sensor default range is 0 -100 mS (full scale,+/- 0.1%). The client should specify in advance if mud conductivity will be above or below this range.

